Topics Discussed: During this week's meeting, we explored the React JavaScript library and the Next.js React framework.

Decisions Made: This week, we've decided that each member should dedicate time to learning and practicing React and Next.js. Since many members are more familiar with working with simple JavaScript or Node.js rather than this specific framework, we felt it necessary to set aside time for this task.

Tasks Assigned:

Each member is responsible for practicing and gaining knowledge related to the Next.js framework and React. Below are some resources shared for members to utilize for practice:

Additionally, work on the database was assigned to be conducted.
